

USIC ALLEGED INFRACTIONS

The State Corporation Commission's Division of Utility and Railroad Safety alleges the United States Infrastructure Corp. has violated damage prevention laws on numerous occasions since it began operating in Virginia in September 2011. The following chart breaks down cases USIC settled with the state from Jan. 1, 2012. Recently, an advisory committee recommended penalizing USIC an additional $122,000 for 102 "probable violations," including 96 on a Norfolk job site.

Date case was closed	Penalty	Number of alleged violations	Hampton Roads cities affected*
1/12/2012	$8,350	6	None
3/16/2012	$12,725	10	None
4/23/2012	$8,550	6	Norfolk
6/26/2012	$9,000	5	Newport News
8/3/2012	$6,550	5	None
8/21/2012	$2,800	2	Chesapeake, York Co.
9/17/2012	$5,850	4	Newport News
10/18/2012	$2,850	2	Newport News, Hampton
11/9/2012	$60,050	32	Chesapeake, Hampton and Williamsburg
12/10/2012	$103,400	50	Williamsburg
1/15/2013	$53,300	26	Norfolk
4/2/2013	$25,700	17	Virginia Beach, Hampton and Newport News
*The state has cited "probable violations" by USIC workers across Virginia, but cities and counties outside Hampton Roads are not included in this list.
Sources: Settlement orders maintained in a public database by the State Corporation Commission's Division of Utility and Railroad Safety			